4. Some significant items that should be mentioned are:
- 1.) Assistance was provided to the Cable Secretary in his recent survey of the CIA Cable reference file.
 - 2.) Feasibility studies are being made regarding the employment of micro-reduction techniques for R&D project reports and other technical data.
 - 3.) Attendant and retrieval systems.

5. In conclusion, considerable effort has been expended this quarter in trying to solve the records storage problem and this Directorate will continue to do everything it possibly can to alleviate this situation.
